HERE'S the POINT!

By SPENCE HELD

It was a hot summer Sunday about 25 years ago when I got stuck with a newspaper assignment in Ensenada.

I was supposed to cover the dedication of the first power line from Tijuana to Ensenada—the governor of Baja California broke a bottle of cognac over the power switch and threw the lever that sent 33,000 volts of electricity crackling over the wires.

Yeah, and I waited three hours for something to eat . . . Long tables had been set up beneath a leafy bower on the grounds of the telephone company's plant, and by 12:30 p.m. more than 300 Mexicans and Americans were seated.

Liquid refreshments were passed around; a string orchestra twanged a few melancholy numbers; and hombres without shaves or clean shirts hovered on the outskirts, snagging drinks.

The aroma of tortillas, barbecued beef and picadillo rose tantalizingly as table after table was spread with steaming dishes. Finally everybody had been served but the two reporters from San Diego.

"It's a comspiracy," muttered Jim Stapp of the old Sun.

Along about 3 o'clock a dapper little Mexican approached us with the news that we were on the program for speeches "in behalf of the American press."

"Speeches?" we asked. "On an empty stomach? Not a chance. When do we eat?"

Well, we finally got something to eat but I never returned to Ensenada until last weekend.

Twenty-five years ago it was a sleepy fishing village with one main street lined with saloons; now it's a sprawling squalid Mexican town with extreme poverty and wealth side by side.

Then, it was picturesque, perhaps. Now it's a tourist town on the shores of the same beautiful bay; the motels and resorts are luxurious and it's a good place for fishing and relaxation but I found the poverty of the Mexicans depressing.

For instance: A crowd gathered outside the restaurant where we were eating dinner and watched the floor show through the windows—it reminded me of those unwashed hombres snagging drinks 25 years ago.

A black-clad beggar woman waylaid us on the grounds of our motel outside the town; and a variety of men paraded along the ocean front at the motel, peddling scarves and baskets.

But the wild flowers were gorgeous in the lush green valleys and on the green hillsides between Tijuana and Ensenada. California poppies, lupine, Indian paintbrush, shooting stars, daisies, sea dahlias, owl clover, etc. And miles of wild mustard.

I was surprised to find the streets in Ensenada still unpaved. At a main intersection there was a geyser from a broken pipe and water flowed down gutters in all directions . . . Some of the signs were intriguing: "Museo Goldbaum"; "Carlos Importer"—I wondered idly if the guy's last name was Importer; "EL SIGLOXX" (the double X befuddled me until I was told the sign meant "THE 20th CENTURY.")

That before-mentioned floor show was a good one. A barefooted young Mexican with a tall brilliant feather headdress danced violently to the music of three male marimba players and a drummer . . . A vivacious young couple did a Hat Dance with grace and gusto . . . The female singer really didn't need that microphone.

Wednesday, July 31, will be Ocean Beach Night at the "California Story," spectacular musical pageant which is part of the Fiesta del Pacifico. There will be new and bigger names in the cast, new music, new ideas in staging and new costumes in this year's production.

Section 27 in Balboa Stadium, accommodating 625 persons, has been reserved again this year by the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce. Tickets will be $2 for this night only until July 15, when regular prices of $3 will be charged.

Popularity Queen Contest Planned

This is a popularity contest, separate from the annual Daz-O-Fun beauty contest, and is sponsored by Ocean Beach merchants.

Yellowtail Derby Statisticians Reported Groggy

Continuation of the heaviest run of yellowtail in the history of San Diego sportfishing left statisticians groggy this week as they attempted to make comparisons with other years, only to have their figures scrambled by one heavy haul after another.

At the close of the second week of competition in the Derby, anglers had rolled up a total of 28,735 yellowtail, a catch equal to that made through the middle of September last year.

In spite of the heavy catches, it took a blind man and two anglerettes to make qualifying in the first derby period look easy. Paul Neuenschwander, San Gabriel, who lost his eyesight 10 years ago when a freezing unit he was repairing blew up in his face, bagged a 30 pound 10 ounce yellow from the Sportfisher IV to walk off with the week's top qualifying prize. The two ladies who qualified in easy fashion were: Ruth Hole, Van Nuys, 25-2, and Edna Alexander, San Diego, 25-1.

Other top yellows of the week included: 29-15, Lloyd Volmer, Downey; 29-8, Paul Shepp, Pasadena; 28-12, J. A. Burness, Los Angeles, and 27-9, Leonard Machado, Carlsbad.

Point Loma-Ocean Beach anglers who qualified during the week included: 24-6, Frank Thomas, Ocean Beach; 23-9, A. L. Rivers, 2347 Wolcott; 25-9, Harold Hanson, 1730 Rosecrans.

In order of their meditations, these ministers will speak during the three hours: Clark W. Plummer, host pastor; David McGown, Westminster Foundation, State College; Allen Newman, Ocean Beach Baptist; James A. Gordon, Pacific Portal; Richard E. Delafield, Ocean Beach Seventh Day Adventist; J. Albert Smith, United Presbyterian, Allied Gardens; Hardigg Sexton, Point Loma Community Presbyterian.

Worshipers may come whenever they can and leave when necessary during the musical interludes separating the Seven Words from the Cross.

Service Clubs took the second game from Optimists 6 to 5. Service Clubs had 8 hits, one of which was a home run by John Sprungman. Optimists got 8 hits including a home run by Jon Burlan.

Moose continued their winning ways by defeating Lions 11 to 3. They remained undefeated in the practice series. Moose had 4 hits and Lions 5.

Parade of Wheels Set Saturday In Balboa Park

Chuck Jones, originator of "Bugs Bunny," will create his famous cartoon character in person this Saturday, April 20, at the San Diego Park and Recreation Department's annual Easter Parade of Wheels at the Balboa Park Organ Pavilion at noon.

The Warner Brothers cartoonist will be master of ceremonies for both the decorated wheels contest and the Junior Civic Ballet performance to follow.

Prizes for the Parade will be awarded by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the best decorated bicycle, wagon or auto, scooter, tricycle, baby buggy, wheel chair and float.

San Diego Women's Club Juniors, under chairmanship of Mrs. George M. Buxton, will be in charge of judging. Jerry Canahan is prize and parade chairman. General chairman of parade of wheels is Mrs. Marlow G. Geiger.

The parade and show are held in honor of the annual Easter Seal Campaign for crippled children. Patricia Bender, Easter Seals child for 1957, will be in the lead float designed by Mrs. Gerald W. Lowe and Mrs. James A. Beck. Cub Scouts Timmy Garfield and Craig Geiger will escort the Easter Seal Float.

The public is invited to attend the event. Crippled children will be special guests.

Motif for the parade and show will be "Peter Cottontail and the Forest Fairies."

The lifeguards will work at the city's guarded beaches or at swimming pools during the summer vacation period. They must be residents of San Diego County immediately after employment.

Spring Fair Of Modern Home Ideas Will Open Tuesday In Balboa Park

The 1957 admission-free Spring Fair of Modern Home Ideas, sponsored by the Bureau of Home Appliances of San Diego County, will this year be held from April 23 to 28 in the Electric Building, Balboa Park.

J. Clark Chamberlain, show manager, says that this year's Fair will outshine all twelve prevously held, in the way of new products shown in innovations introduced to long-established ones. He states that approximately 100 exhibitors will be displaying the latest models of all kinds of gas and electric appliances.

The arrival of the electronics age will be evident everywhere in the many exhibits ranging from electronic ranges, to the Nike Ajax Army missile, all effectively demonstrating the modern appliance of electronics research to many aspects of daily life. Another big attention-getter will be the "X-ray House," which dramatically and interestingly, room by room, demonstrates the importance of adequate wiring for "Housepower" that contributes so much to living better electrically.

For the first time at any Spring Fair, there will be an actual outdoor display of garden lighting and in the same outdoor area a traveling coach exhibiting controlled lighting for better home life. There will be colored kitchens galore and countless built-in gas and electric appliances from ranges and ovens to dishwashers and refrigerators. There will be a fascinating demonstration of the "burner with a brain," a comparatively new idea introducing top burner control.

Food and cooking demonstrations will be conducted by many exhibitors and leading appliance manufacturers are bringing their expert home economists to the Fair to counsel visitors on all kind of subjects, ranging from cooking and laundering techniques to fabric handling and food freezing. Hi-Fi equipment will be widely shown.

Finalists in the 1957 "Miss San Diego" contest will serve as hostesses each day of the Fair. Door prizes will be distributed each afternoon and evening.

On Tuesday, April 23, the first day of the Fair, doors will open at 6 p.m., and thereafter at 1 p.m. each day; closing time is 10:30 p.m. during the run of the show.

Mary Ross Chosen To Sing Title Role In 'Carmen'

Miss Mary L. Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice B. Ross, 3040 Udal St., has been chosen to sing the title role in the forthcoming San Diego State production of Bizet's opera "Carmen." Miss Ross is a graduate student majoring in secondary education.

The double-cast production will be presented in an English concert version at 8:15 p.m., May 13 and 14 by the Music Department in the campus outdoor theatre. Directing the production will be Dr. Arthur E. Westbrook, visiting professor of music. Providing the opera chorus will be the 250-member College Choir.

Miss Ross, a native San Diegan, has had extensive singing experience. She was a soloist in the college's December production of Handel's "Messiah" and sings in the Pt. Loma Community Church Choir. She is a member of Alpha Phi sorority; Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary music fraternity for women, and Music Educators' National Conference.

O. B. Penwomen

A poetry workshop, in which members of the group will submit their problem verses for editorial advice, will feature the April meeting of Ocean Beach branch of the National League of American Penwomen, according to Mrs. Daisy Munchiando, president.

The group will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. W. E. Barrows, 4721 Pescadero.

Santa Fe
the river that flows on wheels
More petroleum moves over Santa Fe than over any other railroad in the country

The 2,384,000,000 gallons of petroleum that Santa Fe moves every year is the river that flows on wheels.

It's so large that it makes Santa Fe the No. 1 petroleum railroad in the country.

This flood tide of oil gives heat and power to farms, factories, military installations and homes all over the nation.

The tremendous demand for petroleum, in all its forms, poses special problems for Santa Fe. For it requires speed and service to keep that river flowing full force. Here are a few of the ways we get the job done:

We move empty tankers just as fast as full ones, so no vehicle will stand idle.

As new oil fields are opened up, we stand ready to serve them. And when new developments take place within the industry, we adapt ourselves to take care of them.

As an example, take liquefied petroleum gas. The demand for it has skyrocketed in the last 10 years, because with this "bottled gas" rural families can cook and heat with gas just like city people. And the railroads have made it possible for them to get it.

Santa Fe runs special LPG trains when the demand for this product requires it. In a year, these trains carry enough LPG to heat over 500,000 homes from November through April.

This is just a part of the story of the dependable transportation service Santa Fe is providing to essential industries that contribute so much to the welfare of our country.

Day Camp Jaycee To Serve Area

Day Camp Jaycee, sponsored by the Jewish Community Center, announces that it will have a bus pick-up and delivery system to Ocean Beach and Point Loma. This extended coverage will enable many more children in this area to participate in the first camp of its kind in San Diego.

Opening its 11th year of operation, Camp Jaycee is expanding its program of activities by leasing Holiday Ranch in El Cajon. This site will offer a swimming instruction course throughout the summer and camping in a natural setting. The grounds of Holiday Ranch were used by Indians before the white men came to the San Diego area. The caves, camp fires and Indian artifacts can still be seen around the grounds.

Bernard Arenson and Norman Gelman, co-chairmen of the camp committee, urge all families to register their children now. Children who are registered late will be placed on a waiting list.

Arenson added that families living in the Ocean Beach and Point Loma area should assure themselves of continued bus service throughout the summer by registering their children at the Jewish Community Center, 4056 University Ave. For further information, call AT-1-7744.

The speaker will be Raymond Rebmond, supervising sanitarian of the San Diego Department of Public Health. His subject will be "Health Apartment Inspections, What, How and Where." Rebmond has been directly associated with the "workable program" which is designed to clear up the blight and slum areas.

Some people have been misled by a salesman's claims that his firm is "registered with the Better Business Bureau," inferring that his produce is endorsed by the Bureau. Your San Diego Better Business Bureau neither recommends nor approves any company or product, and no one is permitted to make such a claim when selling.
